HE BUMPED HIS HEAD

A Small Boy Meets With an Accident.

WALTER BETTRIDGE'S MISHAP

Fell on an Ice Pick and Severed an Artery—A Cumberland Man's Bad Fall on Second Street—A Dislocated Ankle. Accidents That Happen Even to the Careful.

Several accidents occurred yesterday, and some of the unfortunates were victims of the ice. One of the mishaps, at least, may prove fatal, and is the first really serious skating accident of the season.

The unfortunate lad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dray, West End, and aged about six years. He was skating on a pond in that section of the city when he slipped and his head bumped on the ice. The boy continued skating a short time, but the pain was too much, and running to his home nearby rushed inside, holding his hands to his head, and fell on the floor in a spasm. He went from one convulsion into another, and when Doctor Laughlin was called he found the lad in a serious condition. His condition is still critical today. Concussion of the brain is feared.

While Walter Bettridge was working at the factory of the East Liverpool Ice company yesterday he fell on an ice pick, and the sharp point of the tool pierced his thigh. Help arrived a few moments after the unfortunate young man had been impaled, and when he was pulled away from the pick it was found that he had sustained serious injuries. Blood spurted from the wound in a stream, spattering the floor two feet away, and before medical aid arrived Bettridge was quite weak. Dr. F. M. Laughlin was hurriedly summoned, and it needed but a glance to show that the femoral artery had been severed. The ends of the severed artery were brought to the mouth of the wound and tied, and everything possible done to relieve the injured man. His injuries are pronounced serious, but the attending physician does not think them dangerous, unless blood poison results from the ugly wound the pick made in his thigh. Bettridge has been in hard luck of late, throwing up his job as dipper at the East Liverpool pottery for a place in the East End plant and being disappointed in this, was for a long time idle. His accident will confine him several weeks at the least.

An old man named Gardner, who comes from New Cumberland, and is known to be rather eccentric, had a bad fall on Second street yesterday afternoon. He sustained a severe gash above the left eye by colliding with the pavement, and when he boarded a street car for the home of his daughter in East End his face was covered with blood. His hands were also badly bruised and skinned, but his injuries although painful were by no means serious and did not require medical attention.

Alfred Green, the man who was injured by a fall Monday night and was carried home on a stretcher by members of the police force, is suffering with a dislocated ankle. He resides in the alley north of the Presbyterian church, and Doctor Norris was called to his assistance. He will be laid up several weeks.

BEHAVE AT CHURCH.

The Law Will Make It Unpleasant For Offenders.

While Reverend Huston was exhorting his congregation last night, during the after meeting, he made the remark that it was hard to find the dividing line, at times, between laughter and weeping, and that one could not always tell what was in the young people's hearts in a congregation when they were smiling, as they might be using this very method to conceal their real feelings. The reverend gentleman did not use the exact language here quoted, but gave the illustration or point in such a manner as to cause smiles to go around the house, gentle laughter, indulged in by both professors of Christianity and non-professors. A couple of young men in the audience took advantage of this opportunity, and burst out with a regular horse laugh or guffaw, such as one would expect of a clown in a circus. It was an open insult to the house of God, and every face was turned in the direction of the brawlers and intense quietness followed. Reverend Huston paused for a moment, and then sternly said:

"Well, I have heard laughter in the church, but never such laughter as that. Such laughter as that comes from the lips of a drunken man, or a person of unsound mind."

The rebuke was a merited one and struck home. If there is any shame in the composition of those young men, then must they have been heartily ashamed of themselves. Mr. John Harris, of the water works trustees, was looking right in the faces of the offenders, and they will do well if they conduct themselves properly in the future, as he knows them. The law hits such offenders very hard. They should have been compelled to face the audience and render an humble apology for the insult to God's house, or take the legal alternative. There will be no more trifling with such characters in the future at the church.

Sanguine at Columbiana.

The following special from Columbiana tells its own story:

"The construction of a railroad across Columbiana and Mahoning counties in a northerly and southerly course, to connect East Liverpool and Youngstown, which has been contemplated by prominent capitalists for some years past, now seems to be assured. A company of New York and Pittsburgh capitalists has been incorporated at Columbus and has received its charter. The length of the line will be 37 miles. A few years ago the line was surveyed to cross the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago railroad two miles east of this city, but the largely increased shipping interests of Columbiana since that time, and the rich, undeveloped deposits of coal in the vicinity will probably change the location of the junction to this point. It is said that actual work on the new road will be commenced early the coming spring."

Only a Little Talk.

One of the men who annually ship a large amount of freight over the Cleveland and Pittsburgh said last night that while he deplored the fact greatly he was compelled to acknowledge that there was absolutely nothing in the railroad schemes so frequently discussed these past few months. He claimed that the Baltimore and Ohio had not the slightest intention of coming up the river, and times were far too close for the extension of the line from Lisbon. The company could find no one to back it now, and, to the best of his knowledge, he did not know where any new road was to come from.

More Money Posted.

Scheller and Allison, the wrestlers, met at the Robinson House last night, and placed $100 each in the hands of the stakeholder the amount now up being $150 a side. It was decided to post the rest of the money on Saturday before the contest which will take place on that evening at Turner hall. Both men are in splendid condition, and from present appearances will make an excellent match. The winner is to have everything, and the loser will be in the cold. The referee has not yet been selected but it will likely be Ed Riley, the well known sport and wrestler of Pittsburgh.

She Should Be Arrested.

Some unprincipled individual, who should feel the strong chastening arm of Uncle Sam, is using the mail for the purpose of sending all sorts of vile and scurrilous letters to an estimable and well-known lady of the city. The epistles bear no name, but contain the most cowardly and insulting language imaginable, accusing the lady of various things, and telling her that she would have had a number of black balls against her if she had not slipped into a well-known organization recently. The lady is indignant, and will make every effort to find and punish her traducer.

Bidders are Numerous.

Lieutenant Supple, who is the agent acting for the commissioners, has received seven bids for the remodeling of the armory, and another is expected before the time closes this evening. The repairs will amount to $200, and consist of 52 lockers, inside shutters for the windows, and linoleum for the floor. The commissioners should have been here today, but were unable to come, and will not arrive before night. They will likely let the contract at once, and it will only be a short time until the boys of Company E are in possession of what they need.

There Was a Misunderstanding.

Because of a misunderstanding the attendance at the meeting of the Good Citizenship league last night was not large and no business of importance was transacted. The promoters of the idea were anxious for a full meeting, and although a number of enthusiastic persons were present it was thought best to postpone the business until Friday evening when another meeting will be held in the First United Presbyterian church. It is the purpose of the league to get down to work as soon as possible.

THE PLUG WAS FROZEN

What Might Have Been if a Fire Started.

A SERIOUS AFFAIR ON SEVENTH

A Slight Blaze in the Residence of William Seanor Shows That Water Could Not be Obtained if it was Wanted—The Chemicals Extinguished the Flame.

There was a fire at the residence of William Seanor on Seventh street last night, and if it had been found necessary to use water, the house would probably have burned to the ground.

An alarm brought out the department in a hurry, and the fire was soon located in the rafters under the sitting room floor, where the woodwork had caught from the grate above. It only required the extinguishers and a few brave men to put out the blaze, and save the owner from any but small damage. When the department arrived, and the plugman took his stand by the hydrant, he was surprised and shocked beyond measure to discover that the plug was frozen and unfit for service. The news quickly spread among the boys, and caused no end of a sensation for they readily saw that the property in that part of the city was doomed if the fire had gained any headway which could not have been overcome by the chemicals. Some one, evidently, is to blame because the plug was frozen.

Bound Over to Court.

Harry Wallace arrived in town last night, and was in Squire Rose's court this morning with Colonel Hill at the appointed time. Attorney Brookes appeared for Mary Hoover who told a long story to the court. She said she came here for the first time last Fourth of July, and on Dec. 8 secured a position at Anderson's where she has been working. She charged Wallace with having been too intimate with her, and attempted to appear very innocent and child-like. After hearing her story the justice bound Wallace to the grand jury asking $500 bail which was given.

A Peculiar Accident.

When the wife and child of William Moon were sitting in their home in the West End last night the youngster toppled out of its chair, and was falling when the mother, in an attempt to prevent an accident, caught it. She was sewing, and had the scissors in her hand. So quick was the attempt to save the child that the mother forgot about the dangerous scissors, and almost before she knew it a deep gash had been cut in the child's head. A physician was called, and the wound dressed. The little sufferer was not badly hurt.

James Nickle Dead.

A. M. Nickle received word this morning that his brother, James Nickle, had died last night at his residence about five miles from this city on the other side of the river. Deceased was 38 years of age, and has long been a sufferer from consumption. He leaves a wife but no children. The funeral will take place from his late home tomorrow at noon, interment being in the Tomlinson cemetery. Mr. Nickle left here today to be present at the obsequies.

Playing With Zero.

The promised cold snap came with a vengeance last night, and thermometers in all parts of the city showed a marked tendency to make the general public feel more or less miserable. At one time the mercury rested at four degrees below the zero mark, which is probably the lowest point attained during the night, and this morning it was a few degrees warmer. The weather bureau says that a warm wave is coming.

A Pottery Needs Money.

The Toronto Tribune is urging the people of that place, desirous of subscribing to some industry, to give their money to the white ware pottery. It believes that $10,000 subscribed in this way would be a great benefit to the town in giving employment to five times as many people as any new industry that could be started. The pottery has been idle for some time, and many of the potters with their families have left the community.

Visiting Fairmount.

On Monday Mrs. Mary Barcus paid a visit to the Fairmount home to see her children. And found the home in excellent condition. The children all are well in the home, there being about 176 in all, and not a single case of sickness there.

The Last of Lenz.

The Pittsburgh Times of this morning says that the friends of Frank Lenz in that city have advised that

La Vale, the leading cycling journal of France, asserts that it has received a dispatch containing the information that Lenz was murdered by Khurds near Ezeroun on May 7, 1894. Why the French journal should know more about the matter than the friends of Lenz who have been so faithful in their search is something which does not appear on the surface.

There is Some Suffering.

The cold has caused some suffering in the city although the destitution can not be compared to that of a year ago. The trustees have been called upon to provide for many destitute families, and as far as it was possible have helped them along. The increase during the last cold snap was marked, but it did not reach the expectations of the authorities. There are many persons in the city out of employment in spite of the fact that the usual number is employed.

Failed to Arrive.

The many friends of the young ladies who make up the Girls' band were disappointed yesterday when the afternoon and evening trains arrived from the east, and the famous musicians failed to arrive on either of them. At first there were fears of an accident, but when no word came this was passed to one side, and the friends waited patiently through today. It is thought they will be home today, or tonight at farthest.

Two Pleasant Events.

Doctor and Mrs. Clark elegantly entertained a party of friends at dinner last evening, the event being among the prettiest and most enjoyable occasions of the society season.

In the neighborhood of 15 Phoenix club members and their lady friends tripped the light fantastic at the rooms last evening. A dainty lunch was served at midnight, and dancing was continued until a late hour.

A Complicated Case.

The case of Alfred Martin against Clark Birch was taken up in Squire Manley's court this morning two hours after the appointed time. The delay was caused by the attorneys being interested in another case. The litigation involves a horse which was replevined, and will likely become complicated before it has run its course. At a late hour the case was still being tried.

There is Peace Now.

A West End sensation was rudely nipped in the bud the other day by the husband of a too frivolous wife demanding that she remain in their home and with their family after the shades of evening had fallen. He enforced the demand by threatening to shoot a young man well known in that part of town, and now there is peace in the family.

Railroad Officials.

D. C. Macwaters, district passenger agent for the Pennsylvania lines, and Mr. Sanky, traveling passenger agent of the same corporation, were in the city today calling on Agent Adam Hill. It is not often that business brings two officials of this rank to the city at one time, although East Liverpool is one of the best passenger stations on the road.

Preparing For an Article.

Mr. Meade, an artist in the employ of the Scientific American, was here yesterday sketching portions of the plant of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company. The pictures will be used to illustrate an article on the manufacture of pottery which will soon appear in the Scientific American.

Some Local Changes.

It is announced that the Pennsylvania company propose to drop the sign of possession in the names of all stations intended to reflect honor upon local magnates. If the system is carried to the Cleveland & Pittsburgh, the first station down the river will be plain Walker, and the old town in Pennsylvania will be Smith Ferry.

No Serious Sickness.

Officer King said today that there was no contagious disease in the city at present except the cases of scarlet fever. Of these almost all have recovered, but the quarantine is still maintained in three cases. The number of sick people from cold and sore throat seems endless.

Will Gardner is Better.

Will Gardner, who has been confined to his room on Seventh street for some time because of a serious illness, is believed to be on the road to recovery although still very sick.

In a New Home.

The township trustees this morning sent to the Fairmount home the 11-year-old son of William Race. The youngster is a bright little fellow, and made the trip alone.

A SORROWFUL STORY

One Young Girl Who Ran Away From Home.

SHE MAY BE SENT BACK

By the Ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union—The Township Trustees Lend Their Aid—One Good Use of the New Home.

A sorrowful story is that of a young girl who will soon be sent from the Woman's Christian Temperance union home to the house of her father in a Pennsylvania town not far from Pittsburg.

Some time ago the girl became too intimate with a young man, and fearing exposure left her home for Wheeling, where she attempted to hide her identity and find employment. Not being able to secure work, she came to this city, and soon got a position. Hearing of the inducements offered at the home she soon became a regular boarder there, and affairs went on very well until she could no longer conceal the fact that she was about to become a mother. The township trustees were notified, but, believing that the matter could be disposed of in a manner other than the orthodox plan, they induced the ladies to convince the girl that she should go home. After much persuasion she decided that it was the best place for her, and she was provided with the necessary funds. Some of the money was raised by the ladies, and the remainder was given by the authorities who expected the girl to depart this morning. The case was one of particular sadness since it is evident that the girl is far more unfortunate than wicked. Great credit is given the Women's Christian Temperance union by the trustees, who say that they have acted nobly in the whole matter. While the girl has not yet returned to her home, she having changed her mind when all was ready today, it is believed that she will soon give her consent again.

An Amusing Case.

The case of Fred Oachman against Thomas Abrams to establish the claim to some property was heard before Squire Travis at city hall this morning. P. M. Smith represented the plaintiff, and E. D. Marshall fought the battle of the defendant. During the trial Mr. Smith asked Mrs. Higgins if she would not be afraid to let the attorney for the defense be around her house after it was dark, and she promptly answered that she would not only be afraid of him, but of the questioner also. Many other amusing incidents occurred during the trial.

The case was concluded about noon. Attorney Marshall claimed he had purchased the goods for Tom Dorsey and was never paid for them. They were afterward sold to Thomas Abrams, and Mrs. Higgins said she just walked in and took possession, being unable to find the owner, although several had claimed them and wanted to sell to her. Squire Travis decided to reserve his decision until Saturday.

That Irondale Mystery.

The mysterious death of David Rodgers, the Irondale man, which was detailed in the News Review last week, is being investigated today. Coroner Straughn arrived from Lisbon, and the inquest is being conducted at a residence near the county line and not far from where the body was found. Doctors Norris, of this city, and Park, of Wellsville were instructed to prepare a statement to be used at the inquest today, and Doctor Norris went down at noon today. It is expected that the investigation will bring forth some startling testimony, as the mystery has been agitated and new evidence brought to light.

Five Inches of Exceptions.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS REVIEW.
LISBON, Feb. 6.—The bill of exceptions in the McGregor case was not filed at a late hour this afternoon, but it is expected at the courthouse at any moment. It is said that the document is a monster, being made up of legal sized paper, and is five inches thick, with more to come.

Real Estate Slow.

While there have been a few small sales of real estate in the city during the past week the market is by no means brisk, and an East Liverpool deed has not been recorded in Lisbon for a week or more.

Heptasophs' Meeting.

The Heptasophs will meet tomorrow evening at the lodge room, and all members are requested to be present, as the business is of the utmost importance.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, FEB. 6.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

The Brooklyn strike has already cost over a million dollars, but is there any one to say that either side in the controversy has gained that amount?

This Democratic congress in its dying days might make one tender thought for posterity by giving East Liverpool a public building before it adjourns.

If the agitation favoring military drill in the public schools ever amounts to anything there will be less round shouldered men in the next generation.

Does the tariff affect wages? Go ask the tinplate workers who struck at Warren against a reduction soon after the Gorman bill became a law, and returned to work this week at the price offered by the company.
They would tell you that tariff has a great deal to do with wages.

Ohio will support Governor McKinley for the presidency. A few ambitious ones have been endeavoring to make it appear otherwise, but General Grosvenor seems to know what he is talking about when he publicly declares that "99 out of every 100 of the Republican voters of the state will demand that Ohio support McKinley without qualification."

If present indications are followed by the usual result there will soon be a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court, and the president can carry out his threat by appointing the Hon. William Wilson to that position.
But he should remember that it isn't fair to make the supreme court the dumping ground for worn out failures, particularly tariff reformers.

NOT TIME FOR PLAY.

If there is merit in the currency plan proposed by Congressman Reed, it is meet and right that the scheme be accepted and placed in active operation with the least possible delay. Democratic leaders have shown that the deficit was far too gigantic for them to control, thus leaving no other alternative than to accept a proposal from some Republican with ability to diagnose the disease and find a remedy. Secretary Carlisle, acting under orders from the president, has done nothing but attempt to fill up the hole made great and large by the new tariff law. He has borrowed gold from New York, and the bankers have immediately presented their claims, had the paper cashed, and shipped the shining stuff across the sea. It was as though the secretary held a bag, with a hole in each end, over the bottomless pit, while some fantastic figure shoveled in the gold, being paid for his time in government bonds. There is no time for play, but a demand for action. If Tom Reed has a good plan, the Democrats can do no better than give it a trial.

American Cities a Hundred Years Ago.

When Washington was inaugurated, Philadelphia, then the metropolis of the country, had only about 42,000 people,
New York but 33,000, Boston 18,000, Baltimore 13,000 and no other city anywhere near 10,000. Even after the lapse of half a century, during which New York had overtaken Philadelphia, so that in 1840 it had 312,000 inhabitants to the latter city's 258,000, Baltimore and New Orleans were the only other places with more than 100,000 people, and except Boston, with 93,000, all of the few remaining cities fell short of 50,000. During the formative period of the new nation, therefore, all but the merest fraction of its citizens lived in places of small population, the local affairs of which were easily administered through town meetings or other such simple machinery. — New York Post.

BLIND STICKS TO IT.

His Story of Miss Gings's Murder Is Unshaken.

ERWIN TRIES TO MIX HIM UP.

His Testimony That He Killed the Girl
at the Instigation of Harry Hayward
He Declares Is True—Says He Is Now
a Happy Man.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 6.—At the close of the examination of Claus A. Blixt, the self-confessed tool of Harry Hayward, on trial on the charge of murdering Catherine Gings, Attorney Erwin tried to break his testimony, but was unable to do so.

He at first drew out that Blixt had told his story to at least six people, including the city attorneys, the sheriff, the jailor and his own attorney. Erwin questioned him closely about the story.

CATHERINE GINGS.

ing process to which he was subjected before the confession was drawn from him. But the lawyer tried in vain to shake his original story, he repeated it without substantial alteration. He said he was a changed man now and a happy man. He knew he was forgiven and had a home with God in heaven. He was telling the truth now, although he had lied in his first confession.

Blixt told in detail the story of his murder of Miss Gings, at the instigation and according to plans formed by Harry Hayward, which was proved in these dispatches at the time of Blixt's arrest.

A Supposed Incendiary Fire.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—The Bodman leaf tobacco warehouse, a large structure on West Front street, near the Hamilton end of the Suspension bridge, is now a hollow ruin, nothing but the walls standing. There was no fire in the building at the place where the fire originated and no one is able to present any theory except incendiaryism to account for the fire. The place was full of valuable leaf tobacco, in hogheads, all of which was destroyed. The loss on stock is estimated at $240,000 and on building $60,000. The insurance is said to fully cover the loss.

The Officials Doubt It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Neither at the state department nor at the navy department has there come any word from China in confirmation of the reported capture by a Chinese mob of some of the officers of the United States gunboat Concord, who accidentally killed a native while on a shooting expedition. This lack of an official report has strengthened the belief of officials that the story was either without foundation or else much exaggerated as to facts.

Got Arms in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—The sworn statement of the captain of the Wainnalo, the vessel that landed at Honolulu the arms and ammunition used by the royalists in the recent attempted revolution, has been received in this city and will undoubtedly create a stir in Washington. The captain says that he was engaged by W. H. Rickard to deliver the arms and ammunition at Waikiki. He was to receive $10,000, $1,000 of which was paid in cash.

The Weather Intensely Cold.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Owing to the intensely cold weather that has prevailed along the coast, all the steamships arriving at this port presented an imposing and beautiful spectacle, with their hulls, decks, spars and rigging coated with ice from six to ten inches in thickness. Telegrams from throughout the United States show that the cold spell is general.

Amount of the Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Advices from New York state that $368,200 in gold has been withdrawn from the sub-treasury in exchange for currency. It is not intended for export. It leaves the gold reserve at $42,936,442.

A New Railroad Manager.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 6.—Geo.
A. Burt of New York, an experienced railroad and steamboat company manager, has been appointed general manager of the Ohio River railroad, with headquarters at Parkersburg.

Will Please Patriotic Orders.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Senator Hambrough has introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, to use the flag of the United States for advertising purposes.

A General and 90 Men Killed.

COLOMBIA, Feb. 6.—General Reyes, with 3,000 government troops, recently attacked the rebels at Honda and defeated them. Of the rebel forces, General Aldama and 90 men were killed.

MORE BLOWS AT MAGNATES.

Two Resolutions to Take Franchises From Brooklyn Car Companies.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 6.—United States Commissioner Morie has handed down his decision in the matter of the application of the United States government against President Benjamin Norton and the Atlantic Avenue railroad system on the alleged grounds of misuse of United States mail signs. The decision is in favor of the street car company.

Alderman Cassidy of Long Island
City at a meeting of the board of aldermen introduced a resolution annulling the franchise granted the Brooklyn Heights Railroad company to run cars through the streets of that city. The company holds two franchises. The resolution was referred to the law committee with instructions to report it at the next meeting. Mr. Cassidy also introduced a resolution that all motormen employed by any electric railway in the city should be a citizen, a resident of the state for one year, and of the city four months, and must hold a license. This resolution was also referred to the law committee.

When car No. 1296 of the Flushing avenue and Leonard street on its way down town, a crowd of about 15 strikers suddenly appeared, and notwithstanding that the car was full of passengers, began hurling stones and other missiles at it. A huge piece of iron went crashing through one of the windows, followed by a shower of rocks. Special Solicitor Thomas Pender, who was acting as guard to the car, was set upon by the rioters and beaten almost into insensibility. Several policemen went to the rescue, and Officer Behlens drew his revolver and fired three shots point-blank at the strikers. A number of arrests were made, and it was ascertained that seven people had been severely bruised in the encounter, although none of them were seriously hurt.

General Butler's Estate Sued.

EAST CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 6.—Suits have been entered in the supreme judicial court here to the amount of $218,573 against the estate of the late General B.
F. Butler. The plaintiffs reside in New York and other states, and their claims arise out of the transaction in bonds of the Colorado Cattle company, which it is alleged that Butler, while acting as trustee of the bondholders, bought from his fellow bondholders at a small percent on the dollar, when, as it is alleged,
he was aware that the property was in fact worth the face of the bonds.

More Jobs to Give Out.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The commissioner on internal revenue has secured an additional allowance for collectors of internal revenue, which will enable them to employ a larger force in the work of collecting the income tax. The commissioner has issued a circular to collectors outlining their powers and cautioning them against allowing information received in the course of income tax collections to become known to the public.

Some of the Defendants Dismissed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Judge Grosscup has dismissed the charges of conspiracy against Dennis Larkin, John Burke, Jos.
McDonald and Frank Dreyer, co-defendants with Debs. This action was in conformity with the motion of the attorneys for the defense. In the cases of Hanahan and McVean, the judge said he would hold his action in abeyance until more of the testimony had been heard.

Acquitted of Conspiracy Charges.

STOUC CITY, Ia., Feb. 6.—Ex-County Attorney T. F. Bevington has been acquitted of the charge of conspiracy in the county hoodlums cases. E. K. Roberts, who was also indicted on the same charge, and who was to be the principal witness against Bevington could not be found, and the county attorney requested the court to instruct the jury to acquit.

Securing Aid For Drouth Sufferers.

STOUC CITY, Ia., Feb. 6.—D. C. Harrison of Em, Ia., Holt county, Neb., is here soliciting aid for the drouth sufferers. He says there are 18 families in that section on the verge of starvation.
A Mrs. Pearson, living north of Emporia, died the other day, and it is almost certain she starved to death.

A Bullet Found in His Skull.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 6.—At the autopsy on the body of Dr. A. L. Bowers, found burned to a crisp after a fire in his store, a bullet was found in his skull. There is no doubt that he was murdered and the store fired to conceal the crime.

JIM NUTT IS DYING.

The Man Who Killed Dukes In
More Trouble.

HE SHOT A MAN AND WOMAN.

The Latter Gave Him Fatal Blows With an Ax While Dying From Her Wounds.
The Man Rallies and Summons Aid.
Nutt Was Drunk.

ATLANTA, Kan., Feb. 6.—Jim Nutt, made famous for killing Lawyer N. L.
Dukes, in Uniontown, Pa., in 1883, is dying from wounds inflicted by Mrs. John Payton, who committed the act after Nutt, in a drunken rage had fatally shot her. Neither can live.
Leonard Coleman, a hired man who attempted to save Mrs. Payton's life, is lying seriously wounded, having received a bullet from Nutt's revolver, but will recover. The crime was most horrible and unprovoked, the prominence of the families concerned making it most sensational.

After Nutt was acquitted on being tried for killing of Dukes, he moved to Kansas, to near where his present farm is situated, and managed his mother's farm. He was considered a good citizen and became prosperous. Until two years ago the Paytons worked for Nutt, living on his farm. The relations became strained, however, and the Payton family, consisting of the parents and five children, rented a farm eight miles from Nutt's place, from Mrs. A. E.
Bradley.

Mr. Payton has been away from home most of the present winter cutting ice, during which time Nutt renewed his relations with the family. Nothing out of the way was discernable in his conduct, however, until the time of the tragedy, when he sauntered into the Payton household at a late hour under the influence of liquor. Payton was absent, and Coleman, the hired man, was the only other man on the premises.
Nutt, who had been on a week's spree,
was in no pleasant mood, and gruffly ordered Mrs. Payton to get him a meal.
Mrs. Payton complied, though more through fear than because she cared to,
and seating trouble, she quietly got the children from the room. As he ate, Nutt became more abusive toward Mrs.
Payton, and seemed to be turning mad.
When he finished eating, he deliberately drew his revolver and pointing it at the now thoroughly frightened woman, cried, "I'm going to kill you."

Before she could make a move he had carried his threat into effect and sent bullets into her body. The shots attracted Coleman, who rushed into the house with an ax in his hand. The instant he entered, Nutt leveled his weapon on him and fired. Two shots struck the would-be rescuer, but not before he had badly wounded Nutt. He fell to the floor, and for a time lay unconscious in the blood that poured from his wounds.

At the same time Mrs. Payton, with a superhuman effort, had raised herself from the floor and secured the ax. Nutt had become weakened now and literally sank in his tracks. Rushing to where he lay, the woman, her wounds bleeding profusely and herself weak from excitement and loss of blood, rained blow after blow upon Nutt's head. Not until her victim's head was a mass of jelly and she too weak to longer wield the ax, did she desist. Then she sank to the floor and went into a state of unconsciousness that lasted several hours.

When Coleman recovered, finally, his consciousness, he found both Nutt and Mrs. Payton lying in great pools of their blood. Tying Nutt to a chair, lest he should escape, Coleman gave the alarm.
When assistance arrived the woman was beyond help. Neither Mrs.
Payton nor Nutt are able to relate the story of the crime. Coleman is also in a bad way, but will recover. Aside from the above facts, he steadfastly refuses to be interviewed. Nutt has been removed to Atchison.

NUTT-DUKES AFFAIR.

The Other Tragedy in Which Jimmy Nutt Figured.

The Nutt-Dukes tragedy occurred in Uniontown in 1882 and 1883. N.
Lyman Dukes, one of the leading attorneys, was said to be engaged to Lizzie Nutt, daughter of Captain Nutt, cashier of the state treasury. Toward the close of 1882, Dukes began sending letters to Captain Nutt, reflecting on the daughter, alleging certain things as an excuse for breaking the engagement.
This so incensed the elder Nutt that he demanded an explanation, going to Dukes' room in the Jennings house, on the afternoon of Dec. 24. Dukes killed Nutt and was finally acquitted.

Jimmy Nutt, then a mere stripling, who was next in age to Lizzie Nutt, laid for Dukes on the evening of June 13, 1883, between 6 and 7 o'clock and shot him on Main street, Uniontown, his victim falling dead on the steps of the postoffice. A change of venue was taken to Allegheny county and he was acquitted.

The Queen's Speech.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—In the queen's speech, read on the re-assembling of parliament, her majesty mentions that the foreign relations are peaceful, touches upon the satisfactory settlement of the boundary difficulties between Sierra Leone and the French Soudan, and with reference to the war between China and Japan, mentions the cordial understanding existing between Great Britain and the powers interested in the east. Regret is expressed at the Armenian outrages. The leading measures proposed are the amendment of the landlord and tenant law in Ireland, Welsh disestablishment local option, the abolition of the plural voting and the amendment of the government of London.

Favor Cleveland's Plan.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6.—The directors of

tion in called session, heartily indorse the general policy of the president of the United States as contained in his recent message to congress urging our national legislators to take such prompt and patriotic action as will bring our country the impending financial degradation.

ACCEPTABLE TO JAPAN.

The Senate Modifies the Japanese Treaty.
It Pleases the Japs.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The senate has modified its former action on the Japanese treaty to the extent of inserting a provision which will render it impossible to abrogate the treaty before it goes into effect. In the absence of Senator Morgan, Senator Frye moved reconsideration of ratification, and then moved that the word "thereafter" should be inserted in place of the words stricken out. This word comes after the date, 1899, when the treaty takes effect, and the entire clause reads that either nation shall have the right on one year's notice after that date to abrogate the convention. There was no opposition on the part of any senator to change and nothing was said beyond the brief comment by several senators that they had never desired the treaty should be nullified before it should become effective.
A quite important bit of information came out in the course of the consideration of the matter in the shape of an assurance from Secretary Gresham to several of the senators that with the change as to nullification the treaty would be satisfactory to the Japanese authorities.
For this the secretary of state was quoted as saying he had the word of the Japanese minister.

A Western Train Robbery.

PUEBLO, Colo., Feb. 6.—The Western express on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, train No. 1, bound for Colorado and California was held up one mile west of Sylvia, Reno county, Kan., by four masked men, who signalled the engineer and fireman and two went to the express car. For some reason they failed to effect an entrance and then went to the coaches and made the passengers give up all their valuables.
Conductor McGrath ran the train back to Sylvia and gave the alarm and Sheriff Patton was on the train with his posse in a few minutes. The men are believed to be members of the Stafford gang.

Discovered a Shortage.

ATLANTA, Feb. 6.—The county commissioners of De Kalb have discovered an apparent shortage of $16,920 in the accounts of ex-Treasurer J. A. Mason of that county. Mason had been treasurer of the county for many successive terms up to the last election, when he was defeated. Soon after his defeat his house was partly destroyed by fire and the books of his office badly damaged.
This has made the investigation a tedious one. Mason is well-to-do and will make good the shortage.

A Well-Known Man Missing.

TRENTON, Feb. 6.—Ex-Assemblyman
John Caminade, a well-known lawyer of this city, has been missing since last Friday and his disappearance has caused a sensation. He is heavily involved in financial trouble. It is shown that Caminade speculated to a considerable extent and had lost several thousand dollars in the quarry and anvil business. He was the police justice of the city for two years.

PENDING BOND ISSUE.

It Is the Principal Subject Discussed by the Cabinet.

ROTHAM BANKERS IN WASHINGTON

It is understood that their views on the situation were conveyed to the president. Senators don't expect a revenue deficit much longer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—It is understood that almost the only subject of discussion at the cabinet meeting was the pending bond issue. Several prominent New York bankers are here, among them P. Pierpont Morgan, and while they have not seen either the president or Mr. Carlisle, it is understood that their views on the situation were conveyed to the president. No authoritative statement of the character of the cabinet discussion can be made, but it is believed that no final action has been determined upon. It is understood that negotiations with representatives of London bankers are now in progress, with indications of an early consummation.

There is no longer any expectation of a popular loan to be placed in this country, as in that event the experience of the last few months would be repeated and the gold reserve again depleted. The purpose of the administration is, it is understood, to place the entire issue of bonds with London bankers, who would pay for them with London gold and thus avoid, for the present, at least, the necessity for paying out gold in exchange for legal tenders. While no definite conclusion has been reached, it is believed that the announcement of the sale of the bonds will be made at an early day.

THE ADMINISTRATION BILL.

Debate in the House Shows Wide Differences of Opinion.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The debate on the administration's bill to authorize the issue of $500,000,000 gold bonds for the purpose of retiring the legal tenders and treasury notes began in the house and continued for six hours. It developed widely divergent views at the outset. The silver Democrats and Populists opposed it outright.

Some of the administration Democrats, like Hall of Missouri favored a substitute on the lines of the Carlisle bill, while Mr. Reed, the leader of the Republicans, after a speech charging the present trouble to the deficiency in the revenue, introduced a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to sell 3 per cent coin bonds to keep up the gold reserve and certificates of indebtedness redeemable at the pleasure of the government to pay current expenses until the revenue shall equal the expenditures. The issue of gold bonds, he said, would discriminate against the coin bond of the past. Mr. Patterson, a Democrat from Tennessee, on the contrary, favored the issue of gold bonds. The debate under the 5-minute rule, when the bill was open for amendment began to-day.

The Veterans Should Help.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—James Tanner, national commander of the Union Veteran Legion of the United States, has issued the following: "The national commander desires to call the attention of every encampment of the Union Veteran Legion to the fact that a movement is now on foot to have the government secure for a national park, the battlefield of Appomattox. This is a project which should receive the hearty co-operation of all surviving veterans of both armies. Believing this, the national commander earnestly recommends that each encampment of the Union Veteran Legion, express, by resolution, its views upon the matter, and through the representative from its district, communicate the same to congress.

Discourages Italian Emigration.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Mr. Stump, superintendent of the bureau of immigration, has received through Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador here, a translation of a letter of instruction recently sent to all immigration agents in Italy, in which the immigration laws of the United States are explained, especially as to the restrictions against the contract labor and the public charge sections. The letter calls attention to the disturbed financial conditions and the consequent business depression prevailing in this country. The purpose of the letter is to discourage emigration to this country of all persons not clearly of the "desirable classes."

The Strength of Our Militia.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The secretary of war has sent to congress an abstract showing the militia force of the country by states and territories. The entire force is placed at 116,899, of whom 107,394 are privates and non-commissioned officers and 9,505 commissioned officers. The unorganized military force of the country numbers 9,582,806.

Rev. J. Owen Dorsey Dead.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Rev. J. Owen Dorsey of the ethnological bureau, is dead. Mr. Dorsey has long been prominent in philological work in this country and has been connected with the ethnological bureau since 1877.

Caught a Shoplifter.

TOLEDO, Feb. 6.—A bold case of shoplifting has just been reported from a big establishment on Summit street. A well-to-do lady of the Auburndale suburb came into the store and, after making some purchases, walked out. Just before passing into the street one of the clerks detected her in the act of slipping a bolt of valuable silk under her cloak. She was followed by a member of the firm, and seeing she was discovered, ran up a stairway. Here she was brought to bay, and wanted to compromise by returning the silk, giving up her purse and contents. She was compelled to accompany Mr. Rogers to the store, where after consideration of her family and social standing, she was permitted to purchase the silk, about $90 worth, and leave the place.

Cincinnati Court Turned Down.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—About two years ago a Cincinnati importer imported concentrated cherry juice, with 18 per cent of alcohol, which the Cincinnati appraiser of customs classed as alcoholic compounds and assessed it at $2.50 per gallon, and 40 cents ad valorem, instead of 60 cents per gallon, the rate for unconcentrated cherry juice. The New York board of appraisers reversed the decision of the Cincinnati appraiser. An appeal to the United States district court resulted in sustaining the Cincinnati appraiser. The United States circuit court of appeals has reversed the decision of Judge Sage's court and sustains the New York board of appraisers, which admits cherry juice condensed at 60 cents.

Condition of the Treasury.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—The quarterly examination of the state treasury showed the following condition of the funds at the commencement of business this morning: General revenue fund, $28,812.76; sinking fund, $167,625.67; school fund, $92,996.99; university fund, $5,024.61. The total face value of securities deposited by the insurance department for security of Ohio policyholders in foreign insurance companies aggregates $3,217,724.37, and for trust companies $301,636.90, and for free and independent banks $109,975. The above shows a comfortable balance in the revenue fund, and the first regular settlements for the first quarter of the new year are being covered into the treasury.

Murdered His Cousin.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—Near Latonia, Ky., while at school, Richard Perry murdered his cousin, William Perry. Both were pupils, and both aged 17. Their parents live on adjoining farms, and there has been a family feud between their fathers, who are brothers, for years. While the boys were quarreling at school over the family difficulties, Richard knocked William senseless with a baseball bat. William has died and Richard is in jail at Covington. Both families are wealthy. All the school children who witnessed the assault during play hours at noon testified to it being an exceptionally cold-blooded murder.

Died by Her Helpless Husband.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Thomas J. Brelsford of 130 West Lane street, has been found dead in bed by the neighbors. Her husband is a helpless paralytic. Mrs. Brelsford retired in apparent good health by the side of her husband, and death came to her suddenly and painlessly. Her husband was unable to speak or move, and was forced to lie helpless, besides the stiffening form of his wife, who had been his companion and attendant. Death is supposed to have resulted from neuralgia of the heart. The couple came to Columbus about four years ago from Asheville. They have four grown children.

Dayton Out of the Contest.

DAYTON, O., Feb. 6.—Dayton will probably withdraw from the contest for the Republican and Democratic state conventions. At any rate, the subcommittee appointed by the general committee to look up the matter of a hall reported that a suitable place could not be secured, and accordingly recommended that no further action be taken.

The Business Section Burned.

TOLEDO, Feb. 6.—The village of Leipsic, Putnam county, has had its business section burned out. The fire began in Mease & Cripe's grocery, and destroyed the two adjoining blocks, including the Townsend opera house, not yet quite completed. The loss on this building is $25,000; other losses aggregate $60,000, with insurance covering one-third.

Burned to Death.

FREMONT, O., Feb. 6.—The family residence of George Walters, a Sandusky county farmer, residing two miles east of Woodville, was set on fire by a natural gas explosion and completely destroyed. His brother, Charles, was unable to escape, and was burned up. The others barely escaped with their lives.

Willing to Divide.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—The Carpenters' union of Columbus has decided after May 1 to work eight hours per day and accept a proportionate reduction in wages. This is to be done in order that the work may be divided so as to give the many unemployed carpenters a chance to earn a livelihood.

The Chevalier club will give a reception in Bradshaw hall this evening. A large number of invitations are out for the ball.

The Ladies of the Maccabees now number 175 in this city, and at their next regular meeting will ballot on seven candidates. This order is probably the strongest ladies' organization in the city.

When you want to know what is happening you can always be informed by glancing at the news columns of the NEWS REVIEW, and that is why so many new readers have been added to the subscription list during the past few months.

The number of scholars in the public schools is large at present, yet little complaint is heard of scarcity of room. When time for school to begin next year rolls around the new building will be ready for occupancy, providing sufficient space for several years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. David Smith entertained friends at their home, Seventh and Franklin streets, last night, in honor of Mrs. Henderson, of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Prier gave a reception at their residence, Seventh street, in honor of the same lady on Monday evening. Both were very enjoyable events.

It is probably news for some people to know that when property is sold for delinquent taxes the original owner has two years in which to redeem the land from the buyer. If in that time the individual has not come forward to regain control of his property, the buyer can demand, and, as a rule, receives a deed from the sheriff, which gives him a title, but one that is so defective that many have failed to hold when taken before a court.

Although the winter has been unusually severe upon the majority of mankind in this latitude it has been one of genuine pleasure for the small boy so fortunate as to own a pair of skates. Hundreds of youngsters go from the city every day to enjoy the sport, and strange as it may seem but a very small percentage have been injured. A few broken bones and some bruises have been felt, but not one East Liverpool resident has been drowned or otherwise fatally injured.

If Captain Lee Anshutz, a Pittsburg riverman, succeeds in a little enterprise, the upper Ohio will soon be supplied with a through boat to New Orleans. He is endeavoring to secure the Belle of Memphis, one of the best known boats of the Mississippi, and if she can be procured she will be brought to Pittsburg and will make monthly excursion trips to New Orleans. Passengers can secure round trip rates, and every inducement will be offered to make the trips popular.

"Why don't the people who own those things have them painted?" inquired a stranger yesterday afternoon as he glanced at a passing motor car. "Why, they look worse than freight cars," he continued, "and people should not be compelled to ride in them." But there was no one there to tell him that the soulless corporation that owned them lived in far away Cleveland, and didn't seem to care whether the people patronized them or just walked, as they did before the line was built.

The members of the coal exchange of Pittsburg are deeply interested in the obstruction in the channel at Phillips island, a short distance above this city, and they are making every effort to have it removed. Dynamite is being used in large quantities, and in spite of the cold the men are sticking closely to the work. The obstruction was considered one of the most dangerous on the river, and cost a pretty sum in sunken barges before it was thought of blowing it up. The work will be completed in a day or two.

Perhaps it will interest some of the ladies of the city to know that they may, and again they may not vote at the coming election for members of the board of education. Ladies are being nominated for positions of this sort in various parts of the state, but the question is now before the supreme court, and if it should decide the law unconstitutional the trouble of making selections would amount to nothing. Some of the best authorities in the state say that the law is all right, and the ladies can go ahead and nominate.

A pottery salesman, who keeps his eyes open for all the tricks of the importers, says that they are using every possible scheme to place foreign ware before the public. Among the most popular plans yet developed is the shipment to some large store of a vast amount of the finest ware obtainable to be used for display purposes. People are shown the sights, and then called upon to examine cheaper ware made by the same companies, and when convinced by the stamp that there is no attempt to deceive them, they are not slow in buying.

Cent Pieces in the South.

A year or so ago, when the average Savannahian found himself in possession of a copper cent, he felt tempted to flip the little coin into the gutter as a nuisance. Cents were unpopular. Nobody wanted them. Even the newsboys and the bootblacks disdained to waste time in waiting for a cent in change. But things are different now. The little copper coin cuts quite a figure in the city's circulation, and it is as much respected as the more pretensions nickel. Hardly a person fishes up a handful of change in which there is not a plentiful sprinkling of bronze color. The reduced street car fares and the odd cent prices in some of the leading stores have brought about the change, and it is probably a good thing. People have come to understand the value of a cent better than they ever did before.—Savannah News.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—T. J. Barnes was in Pittsburg on business today.
—J. E. Moore, of Homestead, is a city business visitor.
—W. C. Wilson, of Parkersburg, is calling on friends in this city today.
—Miss Ella Wilson, of Wheeling, called on friends in this city last evening.
—Henry E. Porter, accompanied by his son John, went to Pittsburg this morning.
—J. M. McClave, actuary of the compact, went to New York today on business.
—Miss Stella Davidson, of Beaver, was the guest of friends in this city yesterday.
—J. S. Burt left this afternoon for Uniontown, O., to institute a tent of Maccabees.
—Frank Gardner, of Pittsburg, was here on business last night. He returned this morning.
—George Thompson, of the Thompson Pottery company, went to New York today on business.
—Daniel R. Rowlands, of Sharpsburg, Pa., was the guest of friends here yesterday and today.
—Charles Clark returned last night from Butler, Pa., where he has been employed for over a year. He will remain here.
—Miss Annie Martin, of Bellaire, was in the city yesterday visiting friends. The lady leaves soon for a New York college.

Big Buyers Here.

E. S. Gatch, a crockery dealer of Omaha, Neb., was here yesterday making some purchases of ware.
J. S. Shields, a prominent crockery dealer of Warsaw, Ind., was among the buyers in the city today.
William Loewenberg, a crockery buyer from Wabash, Ind., was here buying ware yesterday.
S. H. Sallinger was here from Goshen, Ind., to buy crockery yesterday and today.

The Bricks Were Hot.

The hot brick idea is unpopular at the Dickey livery stable just now. Yesterday Frank Swaney went to the stable and hired a sleigh to go to the country. Three fine robes and a couple of hot bricks for feet warmers were put in the vehicle, and when the outfit was left alone there was a small sized conflagration. Nothing worth speaking of except the bricks remained.

The Source of Sorrow.

The snow was a source of sorrow for street railway men today, and cars only climbed the hills with the greatest difficulty. The salt car was sent out early, and kept the tracks clear, but not before some time had been lost by the cars. The wheels on one car seen climbing the Washington hill were going at the rate of a mile a minute while the car scarcely moved.

Failed to Close.

In spite of predictions innumerable the river failed to close last night, and all sorts of excuses were heard this morning as to the cause. The ice ran heavy all night, the current being much swifter than was expected. Rivermen say there would have been an ice bridge this morning if a wind had blown up stream last night.

Get Out Your Uster.

Postmaster Simms late this afternoon received the following from Observer Harrington in Cleveland:
"Heavy drifting snow and high winds tonight. Likely to cause interruption to travel. Thursday will be much colder with northerly winds and snow."

Married Today.

Miss Lizzie Bettridge, daughter of Walter Bettridge, of this city, was married today to Alfred Bettridge, of Ashland, Ky., at the home of a relative in Allegheny. The bride's father was prevented from attending owing to injuries he received in an accident yesterday, as mentioned in another column.

More Good Skating.

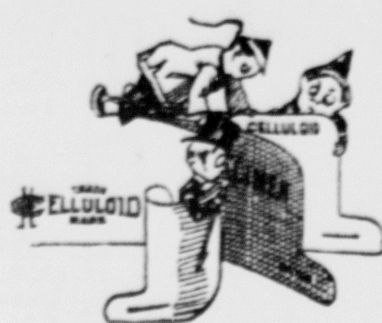

The ice company have cut hundreds of tons of ice from their ponds, and are now determined to let the general public have some benefit from their possessions. The big pond in California Hollow is at the disposal of the youngsters, and all who want to skate are as welcome as the day is long.

Case Continued.

The attachment case of John I. Hodson versus Mrs. Taylor was to have been heard before Squire Travis at 8 o'clock this morning but was postponed to allow the defendant time to reach the city. Squire Travis has another attachment case tomorrow.

No New Cases.

All is quiet about city hall today, Mayor Gilbert having no new cases docketed and the jail being empty. Strangely enough there are fewer sleepers at city hall these nights than before it became so cold.

"CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," thus making them strong, durable and waterproof. When soiled they can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. No other waterproof goods are made with this interlining, consequently no other goods can possibly give satisfaction. Do not forget that every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

Insist upon goods so marked and refuse anything else if offered. If your dealer does not keep them you can procure a sample from us direct by enclosing amount and stating size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

The Hawaiian Islands.

The Hawaiian Islands have been found to be richer in animal life than was formerly supposed. As the result of a year's investigation by the British association, through its committee, it has been found that of birds there are 78 species, of which 57 are peculiar to this group. All the land and fresh water shells are peculiar, and of 1,000 species of insects 700 are not found elsewhere. It thus seems that these islands have by no means been populated from the continent, but have been centers of independent creation. —Independent.

How He Was Wounded.

Pension Agent—I see you have been drawing a pension on the wounded list when the record shows that you were drummed out of the army for desertion.
Pensioner—Yes. That is so.
Pension Agent—Well, how were you wounded?
Pensioner—My feelings, colonel, my feelings. —Atlanta Journal.

Negotiations Not Complete.

Customer (female and unfair)—I ordered ten yards of dress goods here yesterday to be sent. Has it been out yet?
Shopwalker—No indeed. The assistant said you hadn't been in yet to change your mind. —London Globe.

Some of the Sick.

George Matheny has reported for duty at the Specialty Glass house, although somewhat weak from his late illness.
Mrs. Kirkham, of California Hollow, has been ill with typhoid fever and is in a critical condition.

Meeting With Commissioners.

Hon. David Boyce is in Alliance today attending a meeting of the trustees of the Fairmount home and of the commissioners. The meeting is an important one, and matters of moment are being considered.

Dangerously Ill.

James McGongle, a well known resident of McKinnon's addition, is lying at his home critically ill with inflammatory rheumatism. The disease is affecting his heart, and it is feared he cannot recover.

A Pleasant Party.

About 25 young people were splendidly entertained by Mrs. John Pollock, at her residence on Avondale street, last night. Games and dancing were the amusements.

Coal Men Happy.

The cold weather and the scanty supply of gas has been a boon to the coal man whose customers have been increased by people disgusted with gas and the scanty supply.
